

EUnited 2020 Webinars

Wednesday March 4

3:45-5:00PM	The Euro, Trade, and Investment in the EU Layna Mosley
--------------------	--

Layna Mosley is Professor of Political Science at UNC. She is an expert on the politics of the global economy. Her research and teaching examine the relationship between global capital markets and national governments' policy choices. Her research focuses on EU states, where financial market-government relations have changed profoundly over time. In the 1990s, investors focused on the Maastricht Treaty criteria for EMU. In her work, she argues that, with the advent of the Eurozone, investors largely abandoned their worries about default risk.

Wednesday, April 29

4:00-5:15PM	Welfare States, Social Equality, and the EU John D. Stephens Evelyne Huber
--------------------	--

John D. Stephens is the Gerhard E. Lenski, Jr., Distinguished Professor of Political Science and Sociology; Director, Center for European Studies, European Union Center of Excellence, and Trans-Atlantic Masters program. He received his B.A. (1970) from Harvard University and his Ph.D. (1976) from Yale University. His main interests are comparative politics and political economy, with area foci on Europe, the Antipodes, Latin America, and the Caribbean. He teaches European politics and the political economy of advanced industrial societies.

Evelyne Huber is the Morehead Alumni Distinguished Professor of Political Science. She has contributed articles on social policy and political economy in the EU and Latin America to leading journals in political science and sociology. She received an Honorary Doctorate from the University of Bern in 2010.

